ORIGIN OF HEAVEN

DIRECTOR DAVID BELMAR COUNTRY CHILE YEAR 2015 LENGTH 86', col.

LUIS, A FAMILY MAN, AND MIGUEL, HIS OLDER SON, ARE LABOURERS AT A SAWMILL IN THE MOUNTAINS IN SOUTHERN CHILE. SOLITUDE AND SADNESS DRIVE MIGUEL TO MIGRATE TO THE CITY AND START OVER. DUE TO THE INSTABILITY IN HIS WORK AND HIS MONOTONOUS EXISTENCE, LUIS WILL TRY TO CHANGE HIS LIFE: BUT DESTINY WILL WANT SOMETHING DIFFERENT.

David Belmar is a Chilean filmmaker from the Region of Araucanía. He studied cinema in Argentina, where he worked several years mainly as a cinematographer. Back to southern Chile, after directing the short films Expresiones (2008) and Catástrofe (2009), he wrote and directed his first feature film Origin of Heaven (2015). Now David Belmar is currently writing his second long feature film, Rebelde.
